With a blare of trumpets and a roll of drums, election campaigns heralded our 1968-1969 school year. The tragic assassination of Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. and Robert Kennedy lent a somewhat subdued atmosphere to the year. The riots during the Chicago Democratic Convention led to public inquiries of reactionary disturbances. World affairs were not in much better condition. Russia invaded Czechoslovakia. The Olympics were almost cancelled because of student riots in Mexico City. The Paris peace talks had not fared well in negotiating an end to the war in Viet Nam. The Apollo VIII crew, however, gave America a beautiful Christmas present with their around-the-moon flight that indicated moon landings in the near future.

In the local news the 1968-1969 school year was a year of community pride in the accomplishments of L.H.S. students. During the fall semester the football team won the Southern Division title in Calumet Conference play and placed many boys on All Star teams. At the same time the Cross Country team was taking many honors and qualified for the Regional. With the coming of the second semester, Lowell laid claim to the 1969 Indiana Junior Miss. The basketball team established a winning record, and the wrestling team produced a sectional winner. Throughout the year extensive plans were made for the new school. The class of 1969 had the honor of being the last class to graduate from Old LHS. We hope that as underclassmen change from the old building to the new, they will take with them the tradition and spirit of old Lowell High as an essential part of student life.

Student

Life '69

What is a student's life like? It is classes, lunch hour, clubs, dances, and all the fun a student wants to make of it. A typical Lowell High School student's life might include Homecoming, the Christmas dance, classes from eight to three, and a variety of clubs. A student's interests may range anywhere from building a float to acting in plays. Each student did what he could do best and made other students' lives more enjoyable. Among this year's highlights were a winning football team, an exciting basketball season, a lovely prom, and Indiana's Junior Miss. Not many schools had the quality of Lowell's 1969 student life, but then not every school had the same quality of students to make it that way.

The flowers, crown, and winning smile of our homecoming queen.

"Congratulations, Pam!"

Queen Pam assisted by Mike David descends for the traditional first dance of Homecoming.

For the Lowell Red Devils, Homecoming week was a schedule of vigorous activities. Attired in the appropriate wardrobe selected for each day, the student body decorated school halls, store windows, and colorful floats; sponsored a parade and a bonfire; and participated in a spirited pep session. Then on a beautiful October night, our Devils faced the Portage Indians for the Homecoming game. The Devils, cheered on by an ecstatic crowd, scored twenty points in the first quarter. At halftime, Lowell was ahead 20-7. This score was the final outcome in favor of the Devils.

At halftime a tearful Pam Ogborn was crowned Homecoming Queen before stands filled with cheering fans. The lovely queen was escorted by Mike David. Pam's court and their escorts were: Seniors Alison Van Nada and Ron Brown, Karen Wade and Bruce Herz, Juniors Jane Hile and Doug Wiles, Sandi Sirois and Dan Ping, Sophomores Nancy Lucas and Rod Purkey, and Freshmen Joan Hoffman and Chuck Huseman.

At the Homecoming Dance after the game, students celebrated their team's victory to the music of the "Wheels of Fortune".

Junior Miss 1969

Lowell's annual Jaycee Junior Miss Pageant was held November 22, 1968, at Oak Hill Grade School. The purpose of the pageant was to select the ideal senior girl on the basis of skill or talent, scholastic achievement, citizenship, and personal interviews with the judges. Entrants and talents for the 1968-1969 pageant were Pam Ogborn, pantomiming "Second Hand Rose"; Cheri Hartwich, playing "Sunrise Serenade"; on the organ; Monica Beckmann, presenting a rendition of "Wouldn't It Be Lovely?"; Mary Beth Love, vocalizing her song "The Look of Love"; Janis Potter, attired in an outfit of her own making, playing "This is My Country"; Susie Stuart performing a piano solo of "The Apartment"; and Alison Van Nada modeling and presenting her original skit, "Me and My Machine."

The results: Susie Stuart was selected runner-up to Lowell's New Junior Miss, Alison Van Nada.

Judy Nord, Lowell's, 1968 Junior Miss, crowns Alison Van Nada the 1969 winner, while Susie Stuart, runner-up looks on. Susie became Lowell's reigning Jr. Miss when Alison won the State position.

*Indiana's
Junior Miss
Alison
Van Nada*

On January 18, 1969, at Frankfort, Alison Van Nada was crowned Indiana's Junior Miss. Alison's coronation was preceded by three days of practice and competition in which she came in close contact with Indiana's other local winners. On the big night twelve finalists were announced according to judging on Thursday and Friday. The finalists did a physical fitness routine, were judged for poise and appearance in their formals, and performed their individual talents. Alison's routine was a skit, Bonnie and Clyde style, to model individual outfits she had made. One of her props was a huge red and black roadster made of plywood. She received many wonderful prizes, including a $1,000 scholarship, two $500 savings bonds, a camera, luggage, and 30 lbs. of candy.

On May 6, Alison competed in the national finals at Mobile, Alabama, for the honor of becoming America's Junior Miss.

In the pre-season poll taken by Calumet Conference coaches, they overwhelmingly picked Lowell to capture the Southern Conference Division title. How right they were! Lowell punted, passed, and kicked it's way to the school's most impressive grid record in recent years by posting a great 8—2 record overall and a 5—0 conference record.

Among the memorable victories this year were a 19—0 white-washing of arch-rival Crown Point, and another shutout victory, 28—0 over Highland for the Southern Division Conference championship.

Lowell was guided to a fine season by all-state and all-conference lineman, Stu Williams, all-conference end; Terry Padgett, and all-conference center Joe Hile.

Among the returning lettermen will be: Doug Roberts, quarterback; Don Alkire, Tom Hoffman, and Jim Walker, backfield; and linemen: John Flatt, John Sharkey, Dom Pancini, and Frank Mentink.

Coach Ford and Captain Rich Boomsma proudly display the first place trophy which the X-country team won at the North Newton Invitational.

This year the Cross Country team, with the aid of their ever faithful mascot—THE ROAD-RUNNER, had another very good season. They were sparked by four year letterman Rich Boomsma who placed fourth in the Sectionals this year. The team itself placed high enough in the Sectional to earn a birth in the Regional Cross Country Meet. As our team progressed farther into the tourney the opponents grew tougher. The Red Devils finished eleventh in the Regional competition.

With many returning lettermen from last year's winning basketball team, the Red Devils had another very successful campaign.

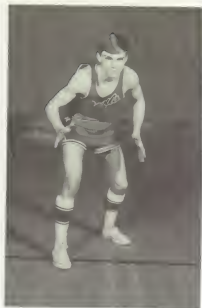

This year the Devils had a fine 15—6 over all record and an 8—2 Calumet Conference record which landed us in second behind the Co-Champs—Crown Point and Calumet.

Tom Keithley was voted the most valuable player of the 1968-69 season. Terry Padgett broke the school scoring record previously held by Ron Wietbroch by scoring 794 points and also broke Randy Harkabus' two year scoring record by compiling a total of 400 points. Terry also had the best field goal per cent.

Other team members to get individual awards were: Tom Johnson, Rebounding award; Tom Hoffman, Most assists; Dave Myers, Best free-throw percentage.

A very bright future is foreseen for The Red Devil wrestling team. Freshmen Charlie Drewry and Buzz Purkey, showed a lot of talent this year and Coach Saitta predicts promising futures for both these boys.

Bob Gunning, a transfer student from Ohio, held down the 95 lb. weight class. Although he won only 3 matches, he gained experience for next year.

The Red Devil wrestling team produced one sectional winner, Dan Ping. Dan also placed 1st at the Munster Invitational Tournament, as did Dan Steuer. Returning lettermen for next year's squad will be John Flatt, Dom Pancini, Dan Steuer, Doug Hoffman, and Dan Ping.

This year's junior varsity wrestling team, though not having a particularly outstanding won—loss record, showed much promise of good things to come for future teams. Comprised mostly of freshmen, our boys had to often wrestle teams that were bigger, older, and more experienced. Undaunted by this, the team had a record of 5 wins and 7 losses to show what a lot of practice and hard work can do. Leading the team was sophomore Mike Yankauskas with a record of 7—0—2. He made a total of 33 individual points against opponents' individual 14 points, while making 33 team points to an opposing team point total of 4. The large number of boys participating in J. V. wrestling also gives an indication of interest in the sport, so who knows, the class of 1972 may come up with the strongest wrestling team that Lowell has ever had.

Presents

Musical Moods

First performed last year, Musical Moods has now become a yearly affair. Directed by Mr. Huber, this year's program was performed by the stage band and a variety of dancers. Most of the dances were worked out by the performers themselves and much time and energy was spent to make the show a success. Many noon hours and late practice hours were spent to coordinate music and dance. Thanks to their perseverance, the band members can be proud of the show. Among the many selections played were "The Peter Gunn Theme" and "Cabaret."

A peppy jazz routine proves to be as much fun for the dancers as for the audience.

Under the direction of Mr. Huber, the stage band performed a very enjoyable program.

Jane Armstrong and Kent Johnson are partners in a descriptive ballet routine.

Rest Assured Presented as All-School Play

This year's all-school play was Rest Assured. The cast was chosen following tryouts held for all interested high school students. Two performances were given: a matinee for the student body and an evening performance for the general public. The performances were well received and the play itself was deemed a success.

The Choir Presents Up with People

The Lowell High School Choir presented an unusual concert of patriotic songs in their production, "Up With People." This type of program is being produced extensively by college students all over the United States and even in other countries. On the program were such songs as "Showboat," "Design for Dedication," "A New Tomorrow," "What Color is God's Skin?," "The Ride of Paul Revere," and the theme song, "Up With People." The highlight of the show was Judy Hoover's solo in "Joan of Arc." Most of the songs were accompanied by drums and guitars which all the kids are accustomed to. Some of the songs were novelty tunes done by selected members of the choir. The audience enjoyed the program as much as the choir enjoyed producing it.

Judy Hoover's solo in "Joan of Arc" was the highlight of the choir presentation.

Choir members set the song "You Can't Think Crooked and Live Straight" in motion.

Student Council Brightens the Yuletide

Music for the evening was provided by "The Carpetbaggers."

Sue Flewellen and Sherry Snell serve refreshments of punch and cookies.

Chaperones also enjoyed an evening of entertainment.

Yuletide Season with Silver Bells

This year's annual Student Council Christmas Dance, set to the theme of "Silver Bells", was held at the American Legion Hall. Nearly seventy couples spent the evening dancing to the tempo of "The Carpetbaggers", or quietly conversing at candle-lit tables. Refreshments of cookies and punch were served. The evening left couples with a warm feeling, characteristic of the Yuletide season.

Sherry offers Bud his choice of cookies.

Couples conversed quietly at candle-lit tables.

Carnival

Lili, a poor, recently orphaned girl, from Mira, tries to get a job at B. F. Schlegel's Cirque de Paris. She meets Marco the Magnificent, the carnival's magician, who immediately offers her a job, much to the disapproval of his helper, the Incomparable Rosalie. The carnival's puppeteers, Paul Berthalet and Jacquot aren't happy either, because they don't want Lili exposed to men like Marco. Lili's suicide attempt, after losing her job, is discouraged by Carrot Top, Horrible Henry, Marguerite, and Renardo, the puppets. She joins the act, it becomes a huge success on the Midway, and Schlegel finally moves it to the main tent. Dr. Wilhelm Glass comes to claim Rosalie as his bride, leaving Marco without a partner. Lili gladly consents to help him, because she fears Paul. Jacquot tries to make Paul realize that she is only a child. It is only when he fears he has lost her, that Paul realizes he loves her. When Marco leaves with the unmarried Rosalie and a new contract, Lili realizes that her childish dream is over and that she must grow up. She starts to leave the carnival, but Paul finally tells her of his love, through the puppets. Lili then knows that she loves and needs him, too.

Lili. (Leah Ellis), Horrible Henry, and Paul (Ed Jerzyk) share a brief moment of happiness.

Rosalie (Abby Alt) leads the carnival people in a rousing rendition of "Direct from Vienna."

1969 May Court: Dave Myers, Vicki Combs, Fred Dahl, Monica Beckmann, Tom Johnson, Janis Potter, Larry Bracey, Deana Ogborn, Queen Terri Lucas, Pam Ogborn, Tom Keithley, Cheryl Midkiff, Bill Gramman, Holly Jahnke, Bud Hall.

Queen Terri Reigns Over Mothers' Tea

The 1969 Mother's Tea, sponsored by the GAA and the Home Economics Club, provided an evening of enjoyment and entertainment for Lowell High School Mothers and daughters.

Presentation of the 1969 May Queen, Miss Terri Lucas, and her court began the evening's program. Additional items on the agenda included a fashion show, vocal and instrumental numbers, tumbling and trampoline exhibitions, and gymnastic routines. A "tea" with cookies, punch, and conversation concluded the evening.

An array of cookies and punch, served by Sandy Anton, were refreshments for all who came to the Tea.

Students Entertain with a Variety of Talents

Debbie Cripe performs on the balance beam.

As a participant in the style show, Ruthann Ballou shows her talent as a seamstress with an outfit she made in Home Ec class.

Dawn Childress, Bonnie Wells, and Jane Armstrong display their dancing in a jazz routine.

Juniors Present "Romeo and Juliet"

1969 Style

Cheri Hartwich and Joe Hile reign as Romeo & Juliet of the prom.

The theme "Romeo & Juliet" set the atmosphere for the evening of May 17, 1969 at the Lowell V.F.W. There Lowell High's annual Prom was presented to the Class of '69 by the Juniors. The highlight of the evening was the crowning of Cheri Hartwich and Joe Hile as Queen and King of the Prom. Following their coronation Cheri and Joe led a grand march, traditional at Lowell High. Couples then danced to tunes by the Johnny Gene Combo, amid blue-hued decorations prepared to accent the chosen theme. After the Prom most couples continued on to the Post Prom Party where they enjoyed a less formal atmosphere and were entertained by "The World Column." An early morning dinner at the Post Prom Party provided couples with energy to continue their celebrations through the morning hours and on to the next afternoon.

Couples participate in the Grand March for a change of pace.

Guys and their dates enter prom through a flowered archway. Now it's Al's and Sandi's turn.

Prom royalty: Stu Williams and Mary Ann Ruley, Queen Cheri and King Joe, Pam Ogborn and Tom Keithley.

Couples Enjoy Romantic Atmosphere

The Grand March is the main event of the evening and is followed by the coronation of the king and queen.

Sandy and Dale stand out one dance. Stand out?

Sophomore girls serve punch and cookies.

Spring Art Exhibit

Mr. Ray, art teacher and Art Guild sponsor, welcomes visitors to the annual art show.

Proficient in a different medium is Tom Schutz, with his prizewinning wood sculpture (self-portrait?).

Karen Prendergast stands by her award-winning portrait done in chalk.

This year's Guild president, Cheri Hartwich, proudly displays one of her own pieces of artwork.

This year's delegates for Girls' State are Judy Hoover and Helen Braden. Jane Lump and Sandy Sirois are alternates. The girls will attend the 1969 session of Girls' State at Indiana University. There they will learn the various principles and practices of Indiana government.

Junior 'Staters' Study Indiana Government

Boys' State, held in Bloomington, is a program designed to teach high school boys about the government of Indiana. Lowell High School's delegates are Tom Hoffman and Mike LaValle. Don Alkire and Dan Ping have been chosen as their alternates.

Trombonist John Peterson is congratulated by Mr. Huber, band director, as he receives the Most Outstanding Band Member Award.

Monica Beckmann becomes the proud owner of the 1969 Bausch and Lomb Award, presented by Mr. Grabill for achievement in the sciences.

Awards and Recognition Given to

Rich Boomsma, Joe Hile, Tom Keithley, Dave Myers, Terry Padgett, and Stu Williams show off their hard-earned honor blankets for outstanding performances in sports and scholarship.

The gymnasium on May 23rd was the scene of the 1969 Honors Day. First presented were the Journalism Awards. The Gary Post-Tribune awarded Debbie Sharkey with the Most Valuable Staffer Award. Year-book Awards for hard work were given to Jill Ruge, Monica Beckmann, and Mary Ann Ruley by Mr. Hunt.

Mr. Arista, representing the Foreign Language department gave awards to Cheryl Midkiff for Spanish and Susie Stuart for French. Recipients of the Science and Math Awards, presented by Mr. Grabill, were Monica Beckmann (Bausch and Lombe Award), Fred Dahl (Physics), and Susie Stuart (Mathematics). Mrs. Clark presented the Home Ec Awards to Vicki Combs, winner of the Crisco Award, while the coveted Sterling Award went to Nancy Jill Clark. Karen Stoner was recognized for the Betty Crocker Award. Mr. Adams presented the Gladys Hetherington Award for English to Teresa Selvidge. Mrs. Robert Henke presented the Women's Club English Awards to Byron Schilling (prose) and Leah Ellis (poetry) for their contributions to Scribbles. Agriculture Awards, presented by Mr. Little, were: Star Green Hand Award—Steve Ebert; Dairy Farming Proficiency Award—Jim Hulsey; Co-op Farming Proficiency Award—Ronnie Hoffman; Star

Chapter Farmer Award—Chuck Alliss; DeKalb Award—Mike Rosenthal. Karen Prendergast and Tom Schutz were awarded the Girl's and Boy's Art Awards, and Jackie Blanchard was presented the Art Campership with David Fedler as alternate. Mr. Huber presented the band awards. Major awards were Outstanding Band Member Award to John Peterson and the Arion Award to Linda Hale and John Peterson. Outstanding Choir Member Award, presented by Mr. Frederick, went to Susie Stuart. Susie Stuart was also the recipient of the DAR Good Citizenship Award, awarded by Mrs. Bert Moyer. Winner of the Legion Auxiliary Scholarship was Monica Beckmann and Debbie Sharkey was given the Legion Scholarship. Miss Thompson awarded the GAA Award to Linda McLellan. Mr. Milakovic presented: Athletic Scholarship Award—Bruce Bailey; All Sports Award—Terry Padgett; Blanket Awards—Rich Boomsma, Joe Hile, Tom Keithley, Terry Padgett, Stu Williams, and Dave Myers. Mr. Perry awarded National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test Awards to Jill Ruge and Claudia Luebecke (Letters of Commendation) and to Susie Stuart, as a Finalist. Brother Ruley was presented the Student Council Award by Mr. Elbert.

Left: Teresa Selvidge is awarded the Gladys Hetherington Award for outstanding achievement in English, by Mr. Adams. Below: Mr. Siatta seems elated upon receiving, for the first time ever at Lowell High School, the Award for Meritorious Weight Loss Beyond the Call of Duty, presented by Mr. Adams, on behalf of all the teachers who wish they were slimmer, but aren't.

Honors Day Highlights Senior Week

Mrs. Clark presents the Crisco Award to Vicki Combs for achievement in the field of Home Economics.

Mrs. Robert Henke, representing the Lowell Women's Club, presents Leah Ellis and Byron Schilling with Elizabeth Brownell English Awards. Leah's was awarded for poetry, and Byron's for prose, contributions to Scribbles.

National Honor Society inductees. FIRST ROW: D. Shapiro, S. Corns, B. Gunning, V. Cumberlin, R. Brown, J. Peterson, L. Ellis, M. Blanchard. SECOND ROW: R. Strickland, T. Hall, J. Huseman, J. Henning, P. Halfman, J. Armstrong, P. Ruley, K. Anderson. THIRD ROW: R. Williams, B. Ruley, J. Jones, C. Thomas, N. Hirata, L. Perzo, K. Molchan, J. Stuart.

Jill Ruge is rewarded for consistency (missing deadlines) as Mr. Hunt gives her the yearbook award. Also honored, with our fearless leader, were her two trusted cohorts, Monica Beckmann and Mary Ann Ruley.

Anticipation, Congratulations, Exultation . . .

Though a joyous occasion, Graduation 1969 was somewhat sad because it was the last to be celebrated in the old building. Baccalaureate began with the processional of Seniors to "Onward Christian Soldiers," played by Debra Mansell. After the Invocation by Rev. Stanley Rolston, the Choir, under the direction of Mr. Frederick, sang "Exodus" and "Sing and Rejoice." Rev. Robert Johnson counseled the graduating class in his address, "And This Is Life." The ceremony ended with Rev. Rolston's Benediction. In the hours till eight, the graduates readied themselves for the big moment when they would no longer be high school students.

At eight o'clock, Sunday, June 1, 1969, the Senior class officers led the Class of 1969 into the gym for the last time. "Pomp and Circumstance" was in the air, and farewell was in the hearts of many. After Rev. Bruce Kelley's Invocation, three seniors addressed the seniors, faculty, parents, and friends. Susan Stuart gave the welcome, "To Welcome You In Style." Bruce Bailey's comments were entitled "Where Do We Go From Here?" "Farewell From The Heart" was the theme of Monica Beckmann's speech. Then the big moment—presentation of diplomas by Mr. Sturm. First to receive theirs were the special Honor Section comprised of those students who had shown outstanding scholastic achievement in high school: Bruce Bailey, Monica Beckmann, Fred Dahl, Linda Hale, Cheri Hartwich, Claudia Luebcke, Cheryl Midkiff, Jill Ruge, Mary Ann Ruley, Teresa Selvidge, Susan Stuart, and Karen Wade. From Alliss to Yankauskas, they all received their diplomas and moved their tassels, then, not so solemnly, left Lowell High School for the last time. We left our personal stamp on Lowell school life and were now ready for the world, with only memories of high school left in our hearts to be cherished for years to come.

Susie Stuart welcomes parents, friends, and faculty to Graduation 1969.

Mr. Elbert gives a last bit of advice to the graduating Seniors of 1969.

... Graduation

Senior boys wait expectantly for the moment when they will receive their diplomas.

Mr. Druckemiller's job is to find places in line for people like Charlie.

Monica Beckmann, only senior to maintain a 4.0 average throughout high school, receives her diploma and warm congratulations from Mr. Stumm.

The activities of a Lowell High School student are many and varied. Each club that one can join or be elected to has its own activities during the year. The Mardi Gras by the French Club, plays by the Thespians, or how about an art exhibit sponsored by the Art Guild? The Student Council even organizes a Carnival in which all the clubs and classes participate. Most of the organizations do just what their names denote. That is, Pep Club boosts pep at athletic events, the Future Teachers of America cadet teach, and the Scribblings staff . . . scribbles (?). It is fascinating to see students in these activities, and it is very rewarding for the student himself. He earns the satisfaction of having done something interesting and worthwhile for himself and the rest of the school.

ACTIVITIES '69

Homecoming festivities, presentation of the Christmas Dance, and organization of the carnival were the major activities of the Student Council. Other important activities included conducting a student exchange program with various schools in Lake County, collecting money for Lake Central High School's WCAE Channel 50 project, an Easter project, and planning a student-faculty committee.

To help make the Student Council a council for L.H.S. students, a classroom project was set up. This project was organized so Council members could learn more about student problems.

The Student Council and advisor Mr. Michael Lemond worked hard to promote better student relations this year and it is hoped that the reorganized Council will be just as successful next year.

National Honor Society

Following tradition, the 1968-1969 National Honor Society worked to fulfill its motto: To create an enthusiasm for scholarship, to stimulate a desire to render service, to promote worthy leadership, and to encourage the development of character in all students. Honor Society membership is awarded according to the qualifications stated in its motto. In an April ceremony selected Seniors and Juniors were inducted, and Sophomores were taken in as provisional members.

The club sponsored a booth at the carnival and hosted the Annual Open House for the parents. The NHS members were also called upon to usher for various school programs.

Lowell High's Marching Red Devils

The band's program for the school year began with marching in the Labor Day Parade. The rest of the fall days were spent tuning up and practicing for football half-time shows, highlighted by the Homecoming program. At the close of the Football season, the band prepared for their annual Christmas Concert with the Choir. During halftime and between games Basketball fans were entertained by band members. The spring term was spent in preparation for the Spring Concert while the stage band practiced for their second annual Musical Moods.

The climax to the Lowell High School Band program this year was the presentation of the band awards on Award Day. Awards presented were: Senior Awards, Best Band Member Award, and the Arion Award.

The Sunshine Club was organized to do what its name indicates—to make the sunshine brighter for LHS students and people of the community.

Sunshine members accomplish their task by sending flowers and cards to those who are ill or who have experienced a family tragedy. Members raised money for the flowers and cards by sponsoring a dance and organizing a coat check during basketball season. Other activities involving Sunshine members included decorating a window and car for homecoming and contributing a booth to the carnival.

Choir and

Glee Club

The choir began a successful year with the performance of "Up With People", a musical variety show. The annual Christmas program with the band, highlighted by a musical interpretation of "The Night Before Christmas", was again a success. The second semester found the choir much enlarged and preparing for the Choral Festival at North Newton High School. The final program of the year was the musical, "Carnival", which was another success and enjoyed by all who attended.

An organization formed for the advancement and improvement of the dramatic arts, the Lowell High chapter of the Thespian Society more than doubled its membership this year. Membership is a lifetime tenure in the national organization. To become a member one must accumulate ten points earned in dramatic activities such as plays, musicals, and variety programs. This doesn't mean just acting, but also includes student directing, committee chairmen (props, make-up, costuming), and stagework (lights and scenery). This year additional points were earned by those already having memberships in the presentation of a program of three one-act plays. The members also participated and worked on other presentations: Musical Moods, the all-school play, and the Musical Carnival.

Art Guild

Sponsored by Mr. Ray, the Art Guild has had a successful year encouraging creative talent among Lowell High School students. Students and faculty members have enjoyed the monthly art exhibitions in the library, the colorful scenery in the plays, and the variety of posters that have lined the halls—all of which were the contributions of the art students. Those same students busied themselves building a float for the Homecoming Parade, organizing the Spring Art Exhibit, holding bake sales, and sponsoring an after-game dance.

Art Guild officers: Cheri Hartwich, president; Jane Hile, secretary; Karen Prendergast, vice-president; Amy Nassau, treasurer.

French Club

The French Club was an active group this year, participating in many activities to promote French culture and language. Their first activity of the year was a trip to Adventureland in Chicago. During football season they sponsored a dance with the Latin Club and made a float for the Homecoming Parade. Funds raised at the Carnival last fall were used for the Mardi Gras the Frenchmen held on February 17. Costumed figures, laughing at themselves and each other, enjoyed this taste of French life, the Mardi Gras.

French Club officers: Karen Eskridge, secretary-treasurer; Mary Ellen Blanchard, president; Jane Armstrong, vice-president.

Spanish Club

The Spanish Club, an organization working to promote Spanish culture and language, is sponsored by Senor Leopoldo Arista. This year the Spanish Club held their traditional Christmas party, contributed to the school carnival by building a booth, and helped make the Homecoming parade a success by entering a colorful float. The Spanish Club members would like to say "Gracias" to Senor Arista.

Latin Club

The purpose of the Latin Club is to stimulate interest in Roman culture. The year's program for this active group consisted of a shooting gallery in the Student Council Carnival, a sock hop co-sponsored with the French Club after a game, and annual Roman banquet on the Ides of March.

Latin Club Sponsor, Mrs. Hazel Nichols, enjoys the Roman banquet.

Industrial Arts Club

Meeting every Wednesday night at the shop annex, the Industrial Arts Club was mainly concerned with problems and discussions about auto mechanics. During meetings, members worked on cars and individual projects. These projects proved beneficial to many of the members who were considering auto mechanics as a future career.

Future Farmers of America

Encouraged by this years many successes, the Future Farmers of America are anticipating future activities. The annual Greenhand Initiation and the Chapter Farmer Initiation brought young farmers into the fellowship of the club. At Christmas time, the members enjoyed the FFA-Home Ec Club party. For future improvement in farming methods, members attended leadership camp and the farm progress show. Several members were winners at various livestock and judging programs, and at the close of the year distinctive Future Farmers received well-deserved awards at the traditional Parents and Son Banquet.

Future Teachers Association

Nearly all LHS students who are considering teaching as a career are members of the Future Teachers Association. The FTA helps as many students as possible to understand the opportunities the teaching profession offers. The club sponsored a day of student teaching for junior and senior members this year and also coordinated the cadet teachers. The extra-curricular activities of the FTA included a spring picnic and a booth in the school carnival.

Future Teachers Association officers: Linda Hale, president; Mary Ann Ruley, Secretary; Teresa Selvidge, treasurer; Sandy Sirois, vice president.

Home Economics Club

It took a great deal of organization and work but this year's Home Ec Club ended the year with a sense of accomplishment. Striving to provide activities which fostered higher ideals in homemaking, citizenship, and school loyalty, the Home Ec members took part in various community and school programs. Much time and effort was put into their clever Homecoming float, which was a first place winner again. Fun and laughter were shared by the members at the annual FFA-Home Ec Club Christmas party. Other activities during the year included working on community service projects and holding bi-weekly meetings led by a variety of guest speakers. The presentation of another lovely Mothers' Tea concluded the '68-'69 activities of the Home Ec Club.

G.A.A. officers: Cherie Abraham, treasurer; Luan Perzo, secretary; Judy Hoover, vice-president; Linda McLellan, president.

The opportunity for year-round recreation for girls is offered by the Lowell High School Girls Athletic Association. Participation in intramural sports, as well as inter-school sports, such as basketball, volleyball, and gymnastics, kept GAA members active this year. In addition to athletic activity, the girls were busy planning and producing the annual Mothers' Tea. The activities for the year were concluded with the GAA banquet in which awards were presented and the new officers were sworn in.

Pep Club Backs Teams to Victories

The 68-69 season for the Pep Club was a challenging one. Despite the crumbling corsages, the lost float, and the many signs that blew away, the Pep Club did a credible job helping students feel like a part of L.H.S.

This year a new constitution was introduced which included a point system as an incentive for participation. The largest project that confronted Pep Club members was the continuous job of making signs during the football, basketball and track seasons. Credit can also be given to the Pep Club and all its members for all their enthusiasm which inspired our teams to victory.

Pep Club Officers: Mary Beth Love, president; Amy Nassau and Carol Bruce, treasurers; Jane Lump, vice president; Patti Roberts, secretary.

"L" Club

The Lettermen's Club is an athletic organization to promote achievement in sports. Membership is based upon a cumulative point system, by which boys can earn a letter sweater and a letter jacket. Senior members who have earned a sufficient number of points and who are of good scholastic standing may also earn a blanket award. The major activity sponsored by the L Club was the dance after the Calumet Conference championship football game.

Lowellette

The Lowellette, "The voice of Lowell High School," acquired a new look this year. In January new custom-made heads were innovated to provide a different outlook toward school news. Editor Debbie Sharkey's staff worked long, hard hours to produce bi-weekly publications. Regular Lowellette features included sports page, sports spot, Senior spot, club and organization news, Dear Blabby, and gossip, gossip, gossip . . .

Scribblings is the annual English Department publication of selected prose and poetry by Lowell High School students. The 1968-1969 Scribblings (sponsored by Mrs. Nichols) was organized into a successful folio of contemporary work by the staff. Copies were then circulated throughout the school and community in an effort to promote recognition of our L.H.S. literary talent.

Publications Photographers

This character portrait of the photography staff is not necessarily what they always did (sometimes, maybe). Their work in taking pictures for both the Lowellette and Lowellian was a valuable aid to both editors, especially in times of need. Whenever a picture was needed, or even filler material, the boys in the darkroom always came up with something. It isn't easy to take good pictures, but our photography staff has come through with some pretty good shots of the active LHS student body. They are (clockwise from top left): L. Bracey, G. Walters, R. Brown, M. Cook, K. Molchan, D. Salmon, M. Fetsch, K. Nichols, J. Alkire.

While hurrying down the hallway, an L.H.S. student can observe many types of students. Some have stopped briefly to chatter about Friday night's game. Others are seriously discussing a math problem, while some casually walk to their next class. These students vary in many ways. They look differently, act differently, and basically they are different—for each student is an individual personality. Each of these students is a very important personality that composes part of the great variety of students who attend L.H.S. Teaching this variety of students is a variety of teachers. Each teacher is also a personality in his own right. These many personalities make Lowell High an interesting mixture of life and laughter in '69.

Personalities '69

Administration

Mr. James Elbert, principal of Lowell High School and his assistant principal, Mr. Jack Hobbs, were kept busy this year planning and preparing for the new high school. Tours were led through the new building, lectures were given to interested parents, and underclassmen were counseled by Mr. Elbert, Mr. Hobbs, and Mr. Sturm.

Although the administration spent a great deal of time working with the new school plans, they spent an equal amount of time keeping the present Lowell High School intact. Many problems arose during the year, such as the lack of a bell system, but the hard work and persistence of Mr. Elbert and Mr. Hobbs kept the school functioning smoothly.

Cadet Teachers Gain Experience

The Lowell cadet teaching program, initiated several years ago, offers to high school students interested in teaching, an opportunity to experience some of a teacher's duties. Schools cooperating with the program are Oak Hill Elementary, Lowell Junior High, Lake Prairie Elementary, and St. Edward's Schools. A few students helped high school teachers. Each student chose to work in the area he was particularly interested in. Some of the areas were art, history, physical education, Spanish, French, kindergarten, elementary grades, speech and hearing therapy, and special education. This year set a precedent in that grades and full credits were given to all students participating in the program.

Tom Wicker Johnson, Treasurer; Janis Potter, Secretary;
Karen Wade, Vice-President; Larry Klein, President.

Officers Organize '68-'69 Class Activities

Witnesses to the hanging of junior class president Tom Hoffman are Marilyn Shipley (secretary), Doug Roberts (vice-president), and Patty Ruley (treasurer).

Sophomore class officers Dave Swider (president), Luan Perzo (treasurer), Rod Purkey (vice-president), and Susie Echterling (secretary) are really acting their age. Would you believe it?

Playing a fast game of roundball (despite handicaps) are the rhine's class officers: Chuck Huseman (vice-president), Pam Niemeyer (secretary), Rex Cunningham (president), and Nancy Campbell (treasurer).

Sandi, Patti, Cindy, and Marilyn add the finishing touches to the flowered arch for their prom, "Romeo and Juliet."

OPPORTUNITY IS KNOCKING

With doubt and dismay, you are smitten.
You think there's no chance for you, Son?
Why the best books haven't been written,
The best race hasn't been run,

The best score hasn't been made yet,
The best song hasn't been sung
The best tune hasn't been played yet;
Cheer up, for the world is young!

No chance? Why the world is just eager
For things that you ought to create.
Its store of true wealth is still meager,
Its needs are incessant and great;

Don't worry and fret, fainthearted,
The chances have just begun,
For the best jobs haven't been started,
The best work hasn't been done.

The first part of the paper discusses the importance of the research and the objectives of the study. It then proceeds to a literature review, followed by a description of the methodology used. The results of the study are presented in the next section, followed by a discussion of the findings and their implications. The paper concludes with a summary of the main points and a list of references.

The research was conducted in a systematic and rigorous manner, following the principles of good research practice. The data collected was analyzed using appropriate statistical methods, and the results were presented in a clear and concise manner. The findings of the study are discussed in detail, and their implications for practice and policy are explored. The paper is well-structured and easy to read, and it provides a valuable contribution to the field.
